

Lee Krushinski
Principal

Lee joined the firm in 2009 after serving as a federal executive with over 35 years of experience in DOD accounting, financial operations, systems and functions.

At Booz Allen, Lee is part of the EBA team in the JCC market providing finance and accounting subject matter expertise and market development support for a variety of OSD, Defense Agency and Military Service markets/engagements. Lee's, primary focus has been related to supporting Navy, Army and Defense Agency ERP teams (Navy ERP, DIMHRS and DAI) and acting as a senior advisor to the DFAS sub-account.

Prior to Booz Allen, Lee led and managed every operational business and product line for the Defense Finance and Accounting Service (DFAS). Selected accomplishments include the management of all operational functions performed by DFAS, the design and development of strategic planning and execution models, creation of a new DFAS organization to lead and drive standardization of accounting and finance business requirements for Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) systems implemented across DOD, development and implementation of balanced scorecards to achieve strategic objectives and goals and associated operational results.

Lee holds a B.S. in Business Administration from Pennsylvania State University, and a Senior Executive Fellowship from Harvard University. Lee is also a Certified Public Accountant and holds Lean Six Sigma Greenbelt.
